Wiley Post and Harold Gatty, back in the city after girdling the globe in less than nine days, found New York at its neisest and at the peak of its enthusiasm. Perched on the cushions of an automobile they made a circuit of the city which probably was only slightly less exciting than the flight itself.

There were crowds all along the route—how many hundreds of thousands no one dared estimate. There was the usual cheering, the usual sirens, the usual quantities of ticker tape and torn newspapers tossed from the windows of the financial district.

Even before the fliers were out of their beds at 9:30 a.m., a crowd had collected around the doors of the Ritz-Carlton hotel, their headquarters. When they finally made their appearance in the lobby, remarking that they had slept "fine," they were applauded by a hundred guests. Even though Gatty and Post were obviously refreshed by sleep, by clan linen, shaves and baths, there were still traces of weariness in their faces.

The filers rode with Dr. John H. Finley, chairman of the mayor's welcoming committee. They were followed by a second automobile carrying Mrs. Post and Mrs. Gatty, and other members of the rcception committee. Behind thero, strung out for a couple of blocks were automobiles carrying newspapermen and photographers.

At the foot of Forty-Fourth street, along the North River, another crowd collected and shouts went up as the men appeared Dock workers, longshoremen and the crew of the Leviathan, docked (Continued on Page 11)

No city was suggested as the place for such a meeting but it was generally assumed the gathering would be held in London.

"No early solution," was interpreted as meaning within the next day or two, possibly even by tonight.

NEW PROPOSAL IS REPORTED ADVANCED IN DEBTS MATTER

the president's offer to help the world by helping Germany probably would bring a declaration of a moratorium by the chief payer of world war obligations.

"We must assume," the American memorandum sald, "that with the present situation in Germany and the failure of the American (proposals, then Germany will unquestionably give notice for the postponement of all conditional reparations, as provided in the Young plan and that this portion of inter-governmental payments will not be forthcoming."

President Hoover had said that President Hoover had said that if other countries would agree to a one-year suspension of reparations the United States would forego its collections on war debts.

If all nations but France agreed to a ssupension, and Germany declared a moratorium on her conditional payments to France, the note said, the result would be

France would collect $105,000,000 from from Germany in unconditional annuities; she would pay $106,000, 000 into the Bank for Internation al Settlements as a guarantee fund; she would be required to pay to the United States and Great Britain about $110,000,000 on her war debt. Thus France would be approximately $111,000,000 in the hole.

The American note showed the United States wants.

On the fourth point, the American memorandum recognized that under the Young plan France is obligated, in case of a suspension by Germany of conditional reparations. to pay into the Bank of International Settlements on demand approximately $120,000,000.

to be applied in part to increasing payments to other creditors during the suspension.

Desires Assurance.

France desires assurance that the suspension of payments would not throw upon her the obligation to pay this "guarantee fund."

"We sympathize with France in this, aspect of the question," the American note said. "We think this fear is groundless because if all governments agree to the American proposal, then there can be no demand of a creditor government for payment. If France, however, has a real fear on this subject, then the other government for payment if France, however, has a real fear on this subject, then the other government for payment follow a moratorium agreement, the note replied that France herself had proposed a change by suggesting that she be relieved of guarantee fund obligations if Germany declared a moratorium.

The American negotiators will meet again with Premier Laval tomorrow.
